The First Week Has Begun

The day the clock has been counting down to has finally arrived. Yesterday was the first day of the first diocesan camping weeks of the summer. Many arrived at our beautiful piece of paradise, caught up with their friends, and settled into their brand new homes. Those that have arrived for the first time got to catch a glimpse of the fun and joy that’s to come.

Everyone got together in the pavilion to go over the rules of camp and to meet the staff by watching a hilarious movie. We also got to meet our Clergy and Volunteers who will be assisting us throughout the week. Later that evening, everyone got the chance to sign up for one of the awesome sports to play each day. Afterwards, dozens came together to sing praises during the first cabin blessing of the season. Welcome home, campers.

“And I by my works will show you my faith.”
~ James 2:18
His Grace Bishop Gregory addresses the campers upon their arrival.

THEOLOGY REVIEW

“Truth is a person. It is a Being, which exceeds all beings and gives life to all.”

~ St. Nicholas of Serbia

Kris Carlisle is ALWAYS ready to snap some pics.